Fundraising Committment

By joining Mountains for Melanoma, you'll be helping fund vital melanoma research that brings us closer to a future free from the threat of melanoma.

Each participant commits to raising $2,500 to help support Australian melanoma research. We'll make fundraising easy by setting up your own personalised fundraising page and providing you with the resources, ideas and support you need to reach your goal.

You won't be doing it alone. The AMRF team will be with you every step of the way, to help you make the most of your fundraising journey. Together, every dollar raised will help drive research forward and make a lasting difference.
